

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION RECORDS, 1894
Petitions

5

April 2, 1894

To President Hale: and the other members of the Provisional Government.

Gentlemen:

I cannot depart from this beautiful and beloved country, in silence with regard to the drink traffic. While here last winter I was able to raise a voice in public against the extension of the traffic. This year I had hoped to hold a series of meetings for the public but being disappointed in that hope I must make my appeal directly to you the centre of influence and power.

Some of you remember the time when no intoxicating drinks were allowed to be sold in these islands; you know how the French forced the trade back again, how one restriction and barrier has been removed till now it is possible for everybody to get drink. In consequence many are drunken, much crime it caused, and even this season two Hawaiians have fallen dead from the effects of drink.

I have seen at least one educated person of every white nationality resident here staggering drunk, and numbers of colored people and uneducated whites.

The last sight that met my view as I was going to the steambot in Keolu, was of a Japanese woman bathed in blood, one gory wound from

April 2, 1897
head to foot³, Her drunken husband had wounded her in the head.

I thought it would be unwise, when you first took control of the country, last year, to prohibit the sale of drink; — but the aspect of affairs has changed.
The question of the restoration of Bill Wokalani, or of the monarchy is dead.

You are framing a constitution that may last as long as that of the Great Republic. Now is the time to put this evil away, and to prevent it from ever reappearing upon these islands, by placing an article in the new constitution forbidding forever the importation the manufacture or sale of all

April 2, 1894
alcoholic liquors, including cider, wine and beer at beverage;

America forbids the importation of diseased pigs from Italy, because two women and a man had been poisoned to death by handling them in a paper mill. She forbids the importation of diseased hides from Argentina, because two men lost their lives handling such hides in a tannery. The Congress of the United States felt called upon to legislate in this manner, in order to save the lives of a few of its people.

France, Germany, and I believe other European nations forbid the introduction of American pork, because it was said to be diseased.
These nations feel obliged to protect

APRIL 2, 1894
the health and ⁵life of their people, Poisonous imported drinks have slain your people every year, certainly ~~the~~ the past season, - two of ~~the~~ ^{the} race that this government is bound by every tie of honor and humanity to protect to the utmost extent of its power.
Will you not then do this grand, this life saving bit of legislation?

The best people in great numbers in every division of the English speaking race, are working for prohibition.

One of the New Zealand commissioners to the Columbian Exposition, had beside a commission to investigate the

April 2, 1894
workings of prohibition in every one of the United States, where it exists, He has spent months in that work in Maine, Iowa, Kansas, and now he writes to me, "Prohibition is a glorious success, I will send you my pamphlet which is to be printed as soon as I reach home." This gentleman is known to some people in the Islands, — if I mistake not to some members of the government, Mr. Geo. M.
Yerx, now of Wellington, N.Y.
Impartial, truthful testimony always makes the same report of prohibition.

Do not toss this plea aside as only that of a poor, worn out old woman, — nor say it means nothing.

April 2, 1894

If I am old, I have had, considering where and how, I have spent the time, a better and surer opportunity to see how drink is destroying men, body, ~~and~~ soul and estate, how it is causing physical as well as moral degeneracy in the nations, — how the financial burdens it brings are octopus-like squeezing the life blood out of all legitimate ~~trade and~~ industries and business, than a younger person would have had, Lucked owing to my, at yet, un-matched travels, I have had an unique opportunity to see these things.

If I was penniless three years ago and not very well endowed now with this world's goods, it is because I gave myself to this without pay for

April 2, 1894
long series of years, if I am worn out beyond what my sixty-three years it is because of too incessant labors, great hardships and exposure in this cause. I therefore believe I have a right, personally to ask you to consider this petition.
But I do not speak for myself alone but for 300,000 women, all over the world who have honored me by putting me into the office I now hold.

Noble young men have gone wrong on these islands, before now, because of drink. There are bright, shapely, pure, upright lads, full of promise of a noble future, now at school in Punahou and Kamehameha that will get fill disgraced graves because of drink if its sale goes on.

APRIL 2, 1894
In the name of holy motherhood, I, a mother and grandmother, call to you, to put a stop to this death dealing business

Very respectfully,

Mary Edmund Seavett,

Honorary Life President of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

TO the Hon. S. B. Dole;

President of the Constitutional Convention:

Sir:-

WHEREAS the Portuguese Colony of these Islands have since 1887 and more especially since January 1893, been unanimous in favor of Republican Government, and

WHEREAS their loyalty to the Provisional Government to the cause of annexation has been unquestioned, and

Whereas the Provisional Government, its leaders have openly heretofore declared themselves anti-asiatics, and

WHEREAS in the draft of the Constitution as it stands there are clauses which may hereafter allow Asiatics to obtain political privileges, and

WHEREAS Article 7 of said Draft leaves open for the Legislature to enact laws which will be prejudicial to the poor classes, and

WHEREAS Councilor J. P. Mendonca has failed to support measures which would be of interest to the Portuguese Colony at large, and

RESOLVED I. That we heartily endorse the proclamation of President Sanford B. Dole:

2. That no more appropriate day could be chosen than the Fourth of July for the promulgation of the Constitution.

3 That Certain provisions in said Draft are inconsistent with the declared policy of the Provisional Government and its leaders in regard to Asiatics, and that no Asiatics should be allowed political privileges in the republic.
