Understanding Census Geography

- Geography provides the framework for the collection, tabulation, and dissemination of Census Data
- Success of the Census and Census surveys rest not only on collecting data, but also linking data to correct geographic areas
- Two key questions when accessing data:
 - ✓ Population data tells us: How many?
 - ✓ Census Geography tells us: Where?

Hierarchy of Census Geography

Census Geography

Census Designated Place

- No legally defined corporate limits (unincorporated area)
- Defined by the Census Bureau in co-operation with State, Tribal and local officials
- Identified in data tables by the acronym “CDP” following the place name
- All places in Hawaii are Census Designated Places

Census Geography

Two Broad Categories

- Legal and Administrative Entities

Geographic areas that originate from legal action, treaties, statutes, ordinances, resolutions, or court decisions.

Specific examples: Nation, States, Counties, Incorporated Places, American Indian Reservations, Hawaiian Home Lands, Congressional Districts, Voting Districts, School Districts, Traffic Analysis Zones, ZIP Codes

- Statistical Entities

Areas that evolve from practice, custom, usage, or need

Specific examples: Regions, Divisions, Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSA's), Consolidated MSA's, Primary MSA's, Urbanized Areas, Census County Divisions, Census Tracts, Block Groups, Blocks

Census Geography

Census Tract

- Small, relatively permanent statistical subdivision of a county
- Census tracts are designed to be relatively homogeneous units with respect to population characteristics, economic status, & living conditions
- 1,200 to 8,000 population (optimum 4,000)
- 480 to 3,200 housing units
- Aggregate census tracts to delineate communities, neighborhoods, social service delivery areas, planning areas, marketing or trade areas

2010 Census Tract Criteria

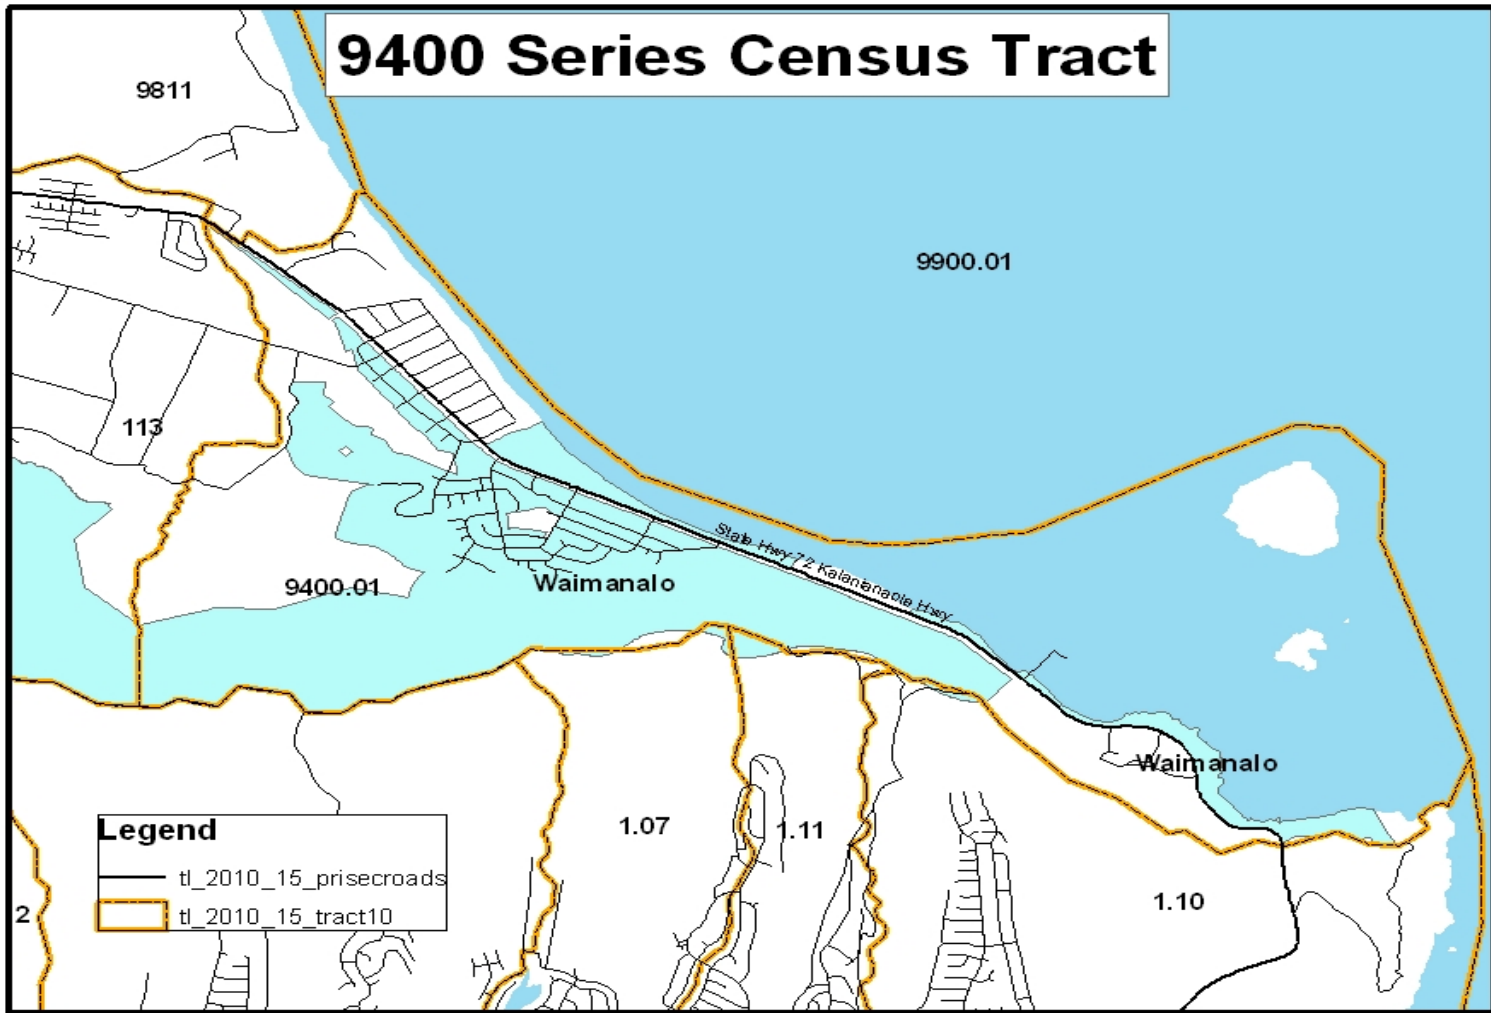

CT type	Threshold type	Optimum	Minimum	Maximum
Standard CTs & AIR/ORL/HHL CTs	Population threshold	4,000	1,200	8,000
	Housing Unit threshold	1,600	480	3,200
Special land use CTs	Area measurement threshold for an urban area (square miles)	None	1.0	none
	Area measurement threshold outside an urban area (square miles)	None	10	none
	Population threshold	Zero or very little, or within the standard CT thresholds
Water CTs	Area measurement threshold (square miles)	None	100	none

New Census Tracts Coding Series

9400-9499 Any tract with a majority of population and/or area on Hawaiian Home Lands

9800-9899 Special Land Use tracts

9900-9999 Water Census Tracts

9400-9499 Any tract with a majority of population and/or area on Hawaiian Home Lands

Census Geography

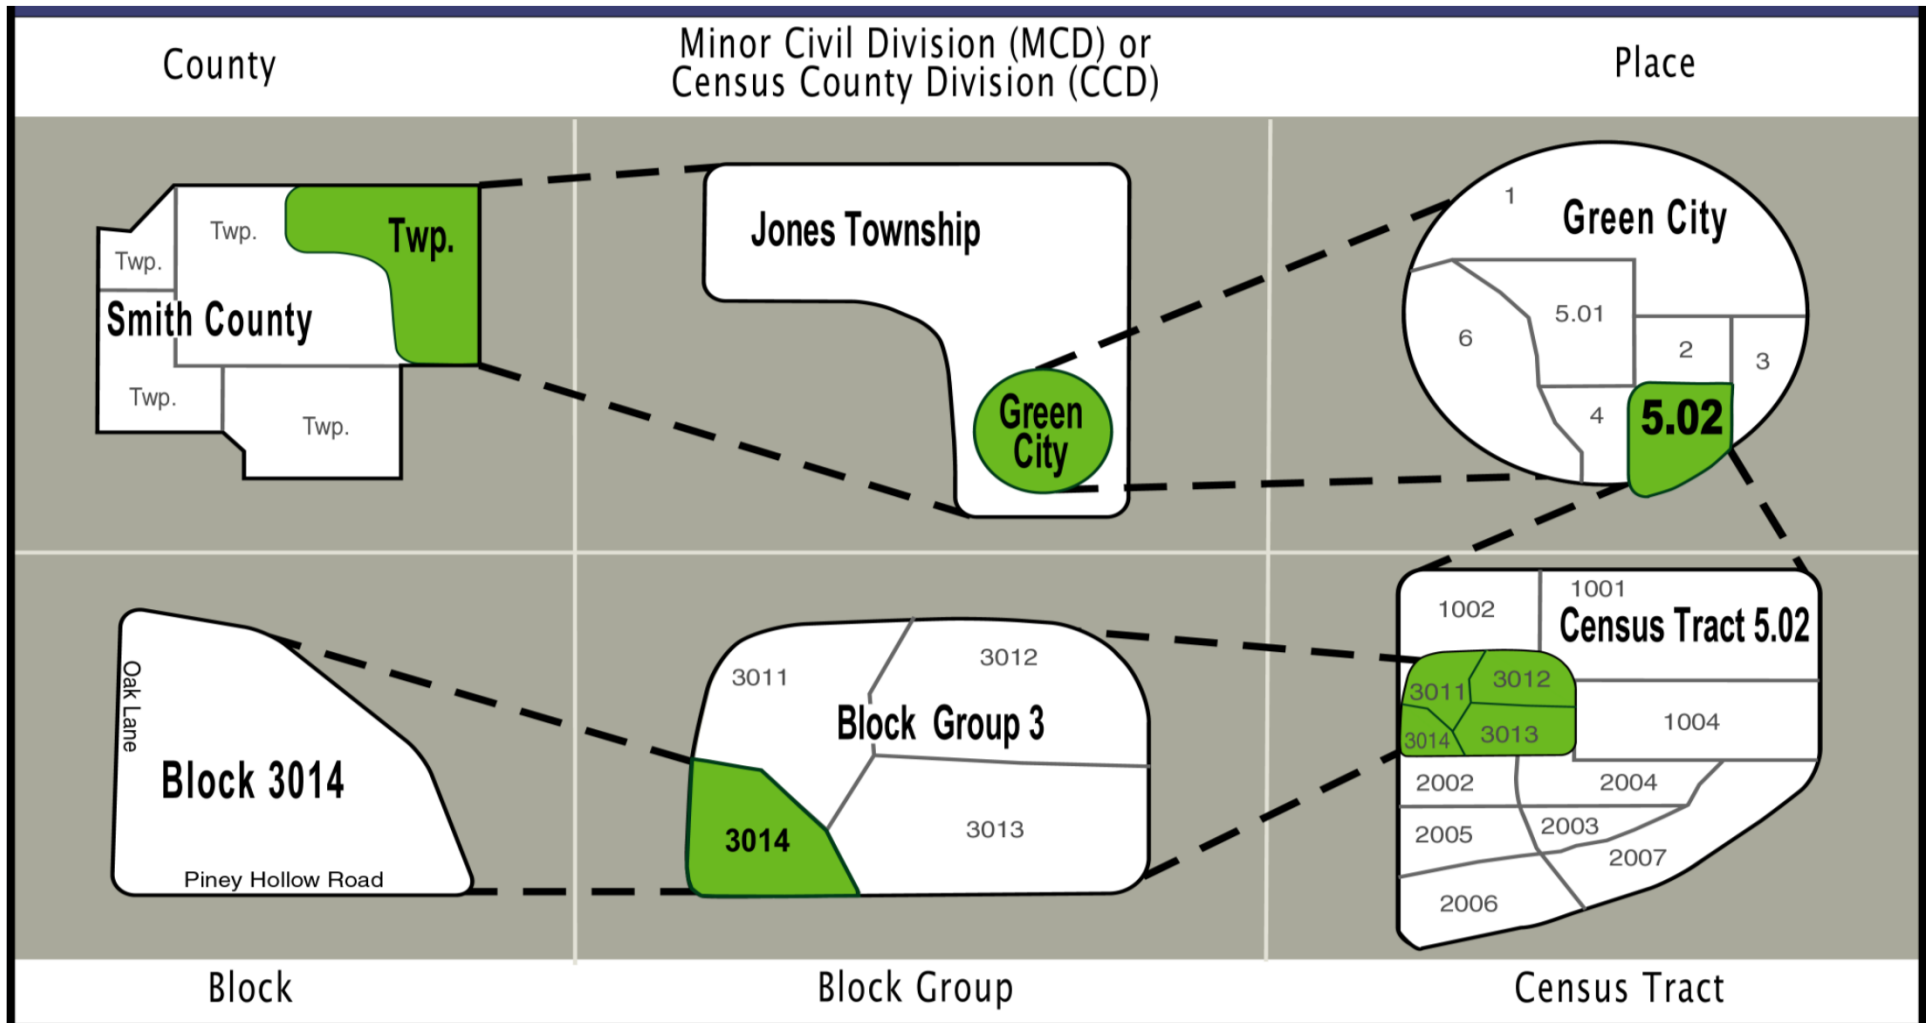

Block Group

- Subdivision of a census tract
- Block group is the smallest geographic unit for the tabulation of sample data
- Block group consists of all blocks within a census tract with the same beginning number
- 600 to 3,000 population
- 240 to 1,200 housing units

Block

- Smallest geographic unit for which the Census Bureau tabulates 100% data (decennial census)
- Many blocks correspond to individual city blocks bounded by streets
- However blocks, especially in rural areas, may include many square miles and may have boundaries that are not streets

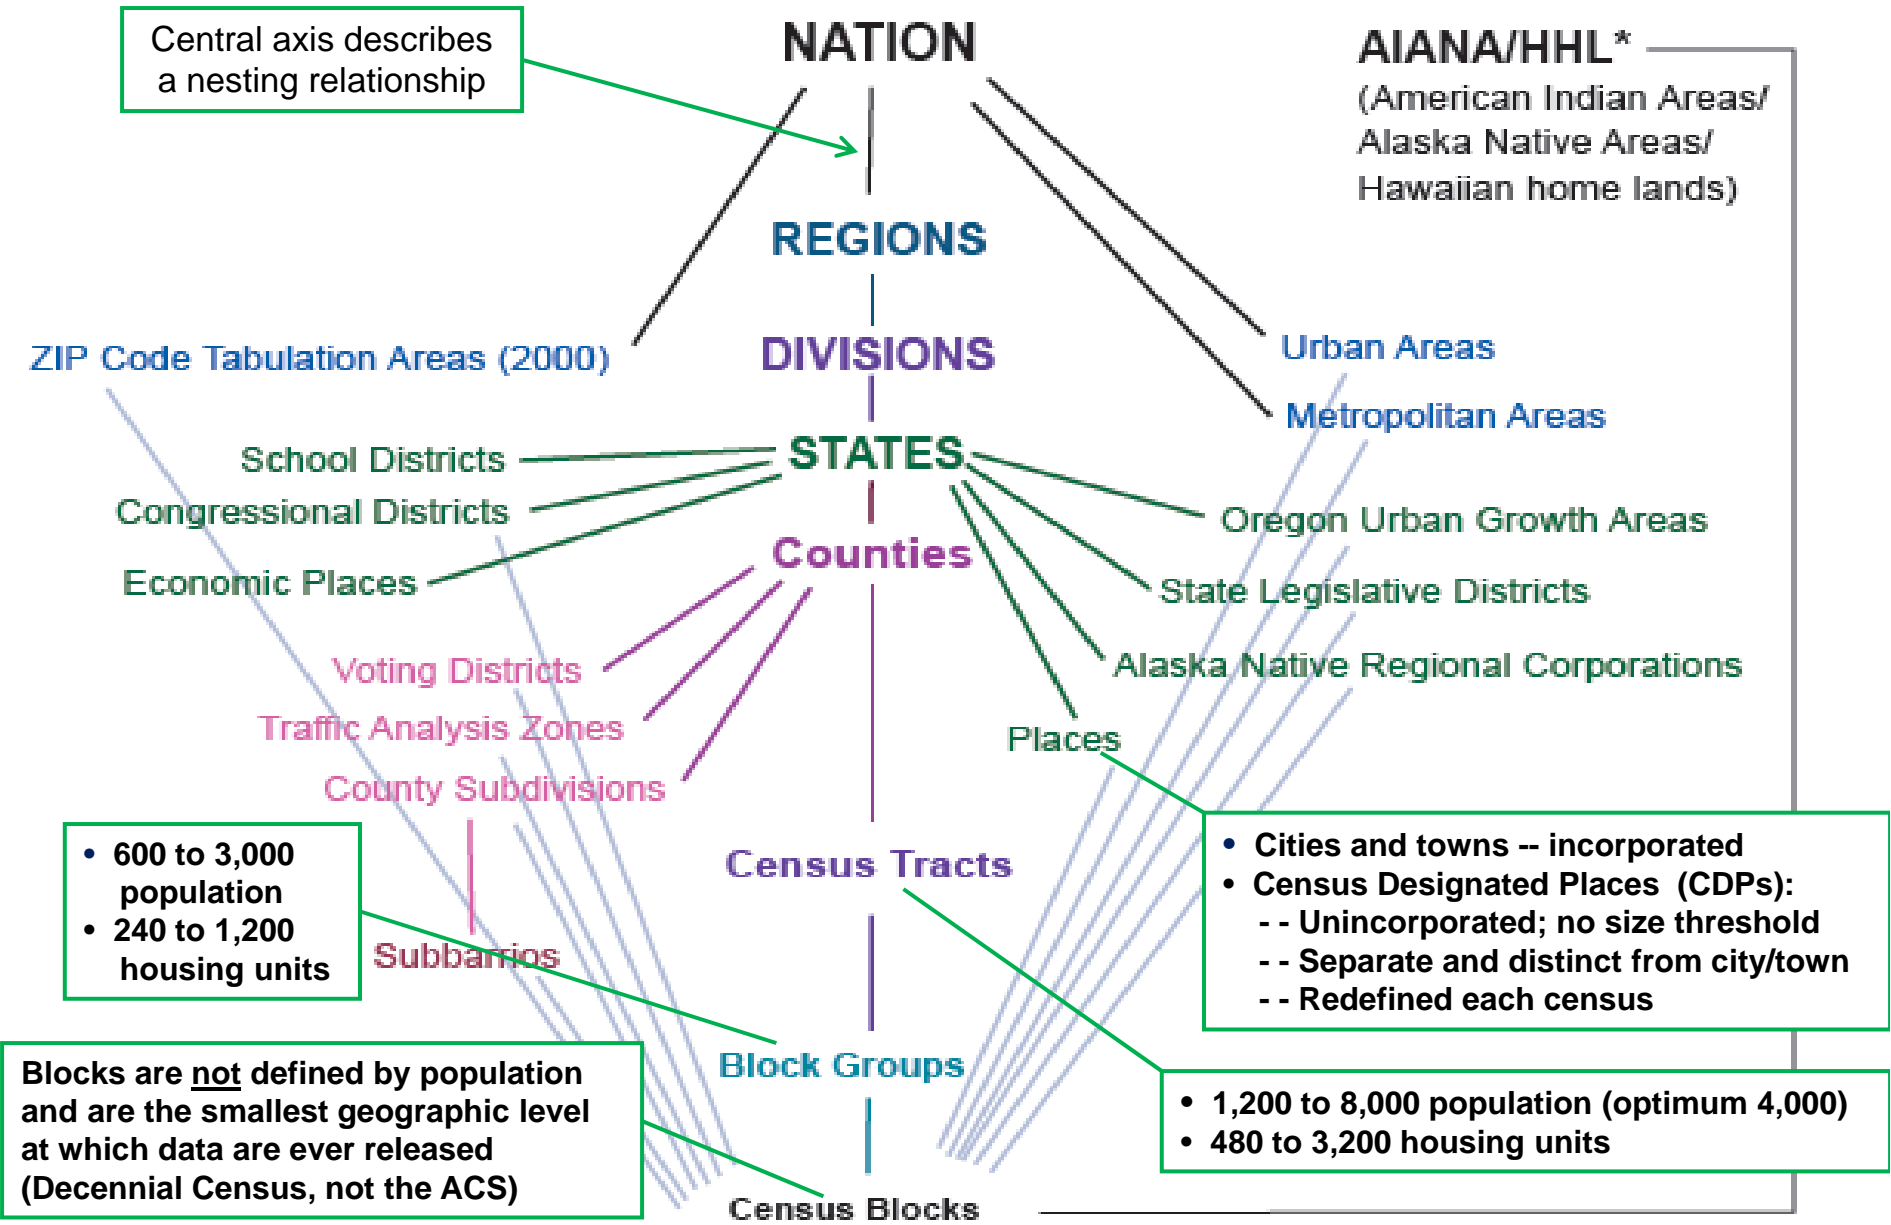

Understanding the Relationship between Geographic Entities

Block > Block Group > Census Tract > Place (City or CDP) > Census County Division (CCD) > County

The screenshot shows the United States Census Bureau website. At the top right, it says "U.S. Department of Commerce | Blogs | Index A-Z | Glossary | FAQs". There is a search bar. The main navigation bar includes "Topics", "Geography", "Library", "Data", and "About the Bureau". The "Geography" tab is highlighted with a red box, and a dropdown menu is open. A red arrow points to the "Maps & Data" option in the dropdown menu. The dropdown menu lists: About, Education, GSS Initiative, Interactive Maps, Maps & Data, Metropolitan & Micropolitan, Partnerships, Reference, and Research. The "Geography" section on the page provides a description: "Geography provides the framework for Census Bureau survey design, sample selection, data collection, tabulation, and dissemination." Below the navigation bar, there is a "Newsroom" section with a line graph. The "Population Clock" shows U.S. Population as 317,784,367 and World Population as 7,156,590,933 as of Mar 31, 2014. There is also a "Stat of the Day" section with a map of the U.S. and a "Latest News" section.

Thematic Maps

Thematic maps are designed to show demographic, economic, business, or socioeconomic data about or characteristics of an area. These maps are typically used to show the geographic locations of features and boundaries. These maps usually contain features, such as roads and rivers, and boundaries, such as county, place, census tracts, or many more. These maps do not contain demographic data and are used solely to show the location of and relationship between boundaries and features. For interactive reference maps see TIGERweb.

Reference Maps

Reference Maps include a variety of map types that show the boundaries and names of geographic areas for which the Census Bureau tabulates statistical data. In some cases, the name is only in the form of a geographic code, such as a census block number. Some types of reference maps include geographic features and their identifiers that are coincident with the boundary. Examples are roads and water features. Reference maps can include additional features such as railroads to aid users in orienting themselves to the area depicted on the map.

2010 Census - Census Tract Reference Maps

These county-based reference maps show and label the census tracts as delineated to support 2010 Census data dissemination. These maps also show the boundaries and names of American Indian areas, Alaska Native areas, Hawaiian home lands, states, counties, county subdivisions, and places. Additionally, these maps display a base feature network including roads, railroads, and water bodies. These features are labeled as map scale permits. Each county is covered by one or more parent map sheets at a single scale. Inset map sheets at larger scales were created where there are clusters of census tracts that cannot be identified at the parent map scale. An index map showing the sheet configuration is included for all counties requiring more than one parent map sheet. The map sheet size is 36 by 32 inches.

Each set of census tract reference maps is accompanied by a Census Tract to Map Sheet relationship file. These semi-colon delimited text files include a record for each census tract within the county, consisting of the code and name of the tract, and a list of all map sheet numbers that the tract appears on.

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, it is the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program that produces and disseminates the official estimates of the population for the nation, states, counties, cities and towns and estimates of housing units for states and counties.

An * indicates that the estimate is significantly different (at a 90% confidence level) than the estimate from the most current year. A "c" indicates the estimates for that year and the current year are both controlled; a statistical test is not appropriate.

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, it is the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program that produces and disseminates the official estimates of the population for the nation, states, counties, cities and towns and estimates of housing units for states and counties.

An * indicates that the estimate is significantly different (at a 90% confidence level) than the estimate from the most current year. A "c" indicates the estimates for that year and the current year are both controlled; a statistical test is not appropriate.

Explanation of Symbols:

An "*" entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An "-" entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval of a seven-coded distribution.

Explanation of Symbols:

An "*" entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An "-" entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution.

An "-" following a median estimate means the median falls in the lowest interval of an open-ended distribution.

An "+" following a median estimate means the median falls in the upper interval of an open-ended distribution.

On the left, a legend shows data classes for 'Persons' with five categories: 186000 - 366000 (lightest yellow), 384900 - 488500 (light yellow), 517900 - 602100 (light green), 620300 - 706400 (medium green), and 777500 - 980600 (darkest green). Below the legend, the 'Colors and Data Classes' panel is visible, containing a transparency slider set to 50%, a 'Number of classes' dropdown set to 5, and a 'Color range' selector. The 'Classing method' dropdown is open, showing options: Natural Breaks, Equal Interval, Quantile, and User Defined. A red arrow points to the 'User Defined' option. The main map area shows a topographic map of Hawaii with county boundaries and population data overlaid. A scale bar indicates 5 miles. Explanation of Symbols:

An '' entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An 'L' entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution.

An 'L' following a median estimate means the median falls in the lowest interval of an open-ended distribution.

An '+' following a median estimate means the median falls in the upper interval of an open-ended distribution.

An '*' entry in the margin of error column indicates that the median falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An '' entry in the margin of error column indicates that the estimate is controlled. A statistical test for sampling variability is not appropriate.

An 'N' entry in the estimate and margin of error columns indicates that data for this geographic area cannot be displayed because the number of sample cases is too small.

An '(X)' means that the estimate is not applicable or not available.

Selected Population Profiles

For Selected Population Tables: (race, Hispanic origin, ancestry, and tribal groupings)

- The population group must have a population of at least 7,000 at the national-level.
 - For race, Hispanic origin, and tribal groups, this is based on 2010 Census counts.
 - For ancestry groups, this is based on 2006-2010 ACS 5-year estimates.
 - There are 392 population groups included in for the 2006-2010 ACS 5-year Selected Population Tables.

Sample Size Requirement

- For the table to be released, each geographic area (for example, the state of Florida) must have at least 50 unweighted sample persons from the population group
 - This is based on 2006-2010 ACS 5-year estimates.
 - This requirement protects individual and household responses.

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, for 2010, the 2010 Census provides the official counts of the population and housing units for the nation, states, counties, cities and towns. For 2006 to 2009, the Population Estimates Program provides intercensal estimates of the population for the nation, states, and counties.

Subject

The data you requested are not available.

Possible reasons include:

No data are available for the combination of geographic area(s) and other items in "Your Selections".

Selecting a table from a dataset that is currently being released on a flow basis, and the selected geographic area(s) have not yet been released.

Program- and dataset-specific reasons for data not being available:

American Community Survey - Data may not be available because the number of sample cases is too small.

The 2006-2010 American Community Survey Selected Population Tables (SPT) - A minimum of 50 unweighted sample cases of an iteration group in a geographic area is required to release a data table. The requested table may not be available for the selected geographic area(s) because the number of unweighted sample cases of the selected race, tribal, Hispanic, or ancestry group is less than 50. Change your selection to a larger geographic area and/or choose a more broadly defined population group.

The 2006-2010 American Community Survey American Indian and Alaska Native Tables (AIANT) - A minimum of 50 unweighted sample cases of a specific tribe in a geographic area is required to release a data table. The requested table may not be available for the selected geographic area(s) because the number of unweighted sample cases of the selected tribe is less than 50. Change your selection to a larger geographic area and/or choose a more broadly defined population group.

2010 Census and Census 2000 Summary File 2 (SF 2) - The population threshold on Summary File 2 is 100. The requested table may not be available for the selected geographic area(s) because the population of the selected race or ethnic group is less than the threshold. Change your selection to a larger geographic area and/or choose a more broadly defined race or ethnic group.

Census 2000 Summary File 4 (SF 4) - The population threshold on Summary File 4 is 100. In addition, there must be at least 50 or more unweighted cases of the population group. The requested table may not be available for the selected geographic area(s) because the population of the selected race or ethnic group, or ancestry group is less than the threshold(s). Change your selection to a larger geographic area and/or choose a more broadly defined race, ethnic, or ancestry group.

2010 Census American Indian and Alaska Native Summary File (AIANSF) - The population threshold on the 2010 Census American Indian and Alaska Native Summary File is 100. The requested table may not be available for the selected geographic area(s) because the population of the selected tribe or tribal grouping is less than the threshold. Change your selection to a larger geographic area and/or choose a more broadly defined population group.
