AGENDA ITEM 4: Board Discussion.4a: Continued Discussion: HBGN request to send a letter to Hawai'i's Congressional delegation regarding changing the legal spelling of the state's name from "Hawaii" to "Hawai'i"

Mr. Asuncion reported that the Office of Planning (OP) drafted a letter to Hawai'i's Congressional Delegation indicating that the Board is not sure as to the process related to changing the spelling of the legal name of the State, which the Board understands is different than the usual Board procedures to change a geographic place name. OP also consulted with the Deputy Attorney General (AG) assigned to OP, who advised that before sending the request to the Congressional delegation, the Attorney General's office first conduct research to ensure that there were no existing procedures specified in State law to follow in changing the spelling. This would potentially help to determine whether changing the spelling of the State name would be a State matter, or whether in fact Hawai'i law is silent on the matter. Once the research is completed, the OP Deputy AG will provide that information to the Board. If nothing is found in the State Constitution or State Statute, then it would be appropriate to ask for guidance from the Hawai'i delegation as to any federal procedures that would need to be followed. Mr. Asuncion anticipates that the Board will at some point need to contact the Congressional Delegation for their input, because the legal name of the State is referenced in the Organic Act and the Admissions Act, which were Acts by the U.S. Congress. Mr. Asuncion asked the members whether there were any further questions that he should take to the Deputy AG as he conducts the research.

Mr. Mills asked to confirm whether a vote was taken to send a letter to the delegation, and Mr. Asuncion confirmed that was the case, and that OP had drafted the letter. Mr. Akana asked whether the letter would be on behalf of the Board, or whether it would come from the Office of Planning. Ms. Delos Santos noted that the letter was drafted to come from OP, but that it stated that the question was coming from the HBGN. Mr. Asuncion said that the letter could come from either OP (signed by OP Director) or from the Board (signed by the HBGN Chair).

Mr. Akana asked for a copy of the letter for the Board to review and Mr. Asuncion confirmed that the Board would have an opportunity to review the letter before it was sent. Mr. Asuncion said that the results of the research done by the AG would be attached to the letter for review by the Board. If no State procedures are discovered by the AG, and upon approval by the Board, the letter and research documents would be sent to the congressional delegation asking for guidance.

Mr. Akana expressed concern that submitting the question to the AG would result in a significant delay before the question could be resolved. Mr. Asuncion reiterated that because it is a legal question, a legal review would be necessary. The concern is that the Board would ask the delegation for direction, when in fact it could be a State issue.

Mr. Akana said that there is a presumption that it is a State issue – the State has a right to determine the name of its state, and is not dependent on what the federal government says in their law. It is irrefutable that the State of Hawai‘i has a right to determine the spelling of its own name.

Mr. Asuncion said that the question would then become – “Who in the state has the right to determine that spelling?” Ms. Delos Santos said that it is not the HBGN which determines the legal name of the state – the U.S. Board has said that they will not accept a change in the spelling of the legal name of the state based upon a decision by the HBGN. Mr. Akana said that it would most likely need to go before the state legislature. Mr. Asuncion thought that it would require a constitutional amendment, which means it would go to the voters in a ballot.

Mr. Akana asked whether the Board had ever considered the name of the state when considering the name of the island of Hawai‘i. Ms. Delos Santos said that she believes that the board had considered the name of the island, but that the difference is that the Island of Hawai‘i is a geographic feature, while the State of Hawai‘i is a legal entity, and the HBGN’s authority does not extend to the legal name of the state.

Ms. Silva asked whether the AG had given any indication as to how long their research might take. Mr. Asuncion thought it would take approximately another week. Mr. Asuncion said that as OP receives information from the AG, it would pass it on to the board, with the draft letter attached. It could be before the next meeting, but it would be no later than the next meeting.

4b: Continued Discussion: Possible addition of new place name, Lō‘ihi, to the USBGN Geographic Names Information System (GNIS) database.

Ms. Delos Santos distributed a document containing an email exchange on this topic between Ms. Louis and Ms. Kekuhi Kealiikanakaole on this topic, including the words to a chant that has a reference to the island, named as Kama‘ehu – from line 19 of the chant:

19. Keiki ehu, kama ehu a Kanaloa

Ms. Louis noted that according to the November 2013 minutes, Mr. Bobby Camara said that Ms. Pua Kanahale and members of her family thought that the name Kama‘ehu was more appropriate for the feature commonly referred to as Lō‘ihi.

Ms. Louis clarified that the question before the Board was not to change the name of the feature, but to propose a name for an unnamed geographic feature, as the seamount is not currently in the GNIS database for underwater features. Ms. Louis stated that the feature has no official name, although people have commonly been referring to it as Lō‘ihi. She also suggested that whichever name the Board decided on (Lō‘ihi or Kama‘ehu), the other could be a variant.

Ms. Silva said that she thought that this topic would require a great deal more discussion before reaching a decision. She noted that the scientists are accustomed to calling it Lō‘ihi. Another problem is that the name Lō‘ihi is actually simply a descriptive word. She also suggested that those who could interpret chants, such as Mr. Akana and herself, should review the chant itself again. She said that in looking at the chant, it is not obvious to her that it says that the new island on the east side of Hawai‘i is named Kama‘ehu. She also thought that it would be worthwhile to take it to the public for input. It is a momentous decision, and one that would not make the scientists happy. She also pointed out that many maps are already using the name Lō‘ihi. Ms. Louis added that many maps using that name are in fact federal maps.

Mr. Asuncion asked how the name Lō‘ihi was derived. Ms. Silva recalled that Mr. Akana thought it was because the island would take a long time to form. Ms. McEldowney pointed out that it was Ms. Pukui that gave the island the name Lō‘ihi (per Mr. Camara, see 11/21/13 HBGN minutes).

Ms. Louis said that although the name Lō‘ihi was used in various federal documents, that usage should not necessarily be given much weight, because the federal government does not have the authority to name geographic features in Hawai‘i. Ms. McEldowney said the issue would still need to be discussed with federal agencies in order to understand impacts and how they would deal with them.

Mr. Akana noted that the feature was named Lō‘ihi in 1955.

Mr. Asuncion recommended more research and said that public input would definitely be needed, but that research should be completed before going to the public. He suggested that the issue be researched further, and that research be presented to the Board at the next meeting. Mr. Mills suggested the formation of a Permitted Interaction Group (PIG) to research this matter and report back to the Board. Part of the research should include outreach. Ms. Louis asked that enough time be allotted to conduct sufficient research, perhaps as long as six months. Ms. Delos Santos will add the formation of a Permitted Interaction Group to the April meeting agenda.
