I DECLARE UNDER PENALTY OF LAW THAT THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

DATED: Wailuku, Hawaii, December 26, 2015

ADDENDUM TO DECLARATION

I further declare as follows, which shall be incorporated by reference in the declaration to which this addendum is attached:

Since purchasing my lot at Wailuku Country Estates in 2014, I have maintained the existing crops and plan to expand as room and water availability permit. Almost 2 acres of my 2.7 acre lot are devoted to these crops. I presently have these crops which I sell to a local family market:

Coconut trees; 21

Papaya trees; 20 (expanded from four when I moved here)

Mango trees; 12

Lychee trees; 3

Avacado trees; 7 (expanded from 4)

Brazilian cherry trees; 2

Soursap trees; 6 (expanded from 1)

Bamboo clumps; 12

Orange trees; 5

Banana trees; 10 (expanded from 5)

My plan is to expand by adding about 10-20 coffee bushes by removing some of the bamboo. All of the above except the bamboo are on a drip irrigation system which uses about 90% of my agricultural water allotment. Without the continued availability of agricultural water, this farming would not be possible.

I currently grow various citrus trees, bananas, lychee, mango, avocado trees, mountain apple, kukui nut trees.

I have a substantial amount of mac-nut trees.

I also grow a vegetable garden and plan to triple its size upon retirement.

I need (requesting) non-potable water for not only my current use, but for future use in truly working and living off the land.

Note: I am born and raised on Maui. It was very fortunate that I could acquire this land and being from Maui, I realize there are responsibilities and an obligation to care for the land. While still on the workforce, my involvement with the land is not where I want to be but upon retirement I will use the land to its potential.

I DECLARE UNDER PENALTY OF LAW THAT THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

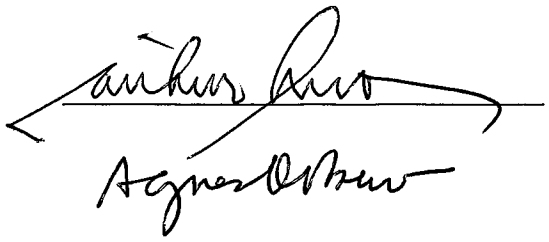
DATED: Wailuku, Hawaii, December 10, 2015.



ADDENDUM TO DECLARATION

I further declare as follows, which shall be incorporated by reference in the declaration to which this addendum is attached:

The non-potable water is necessary and very important for us now and in the future for our farming operation and our lifestyle of living off and working the land. Our family came from generations of farming and it's in our blood. Our 2 acre lot is all usable and we have been farming since 2003 when we first bought it. 50% of our lot is planted with bananas and different trees like papayas, avocadoes, marrungays, mangos, jack fruits, "pakak" and all of this requires water to get a good harvest. The Filipinos love to eat cooking bananas, boiled or dessert and has a good demand in the market. Some we share to neighbors, co-workers, and friends. Also 50% of our operation is planted with green leafy vegetables, such as bitter melon, sweet potato, "saluyot" "sayote", string beans which is all part of the Filipino diet and there's a good demand in the market. We practice organic farming, all the green waste we make compost to make the rich soil. We also raised chickens for our food.

If there's no water, we cannot farm. The cost of living is so high here on Maui. The income we get helped pay our mortgage and also we provide for most of our food. We practice the "farm to table" and organic movement which is a healthier way of eating and if we are healthy we are wealthy and happy.

The other advantage too of living the land is teaching our kids the value of work and the beauty of harvesting your own food. They learn firsthand when the right time to harvest bananas, to cut vegetables and how to market it. It's an interactive ay of learning and living. Hopefully whatever they learn they will teach it to their future offspring. This is our legacy that we intended and hopefully pass it on.

So please don't take away the irrigation water. Water is life. Mahalo!

ADDENDUM TO DECLARATION

I further declare as follows, which shall be incorporated by reference in the declaration to which this addendum is attached:

On my 2+ acres at Wailuku Country Estates I raise large quantities of bananas, dragon fruit, squash, mac nuts, and other tropical fruits, papayas, avocados, sour sop, citrus, etc. etc. Annual income from the farm is about $6,000.00. These funds are necessary for maintenance and living costs. We need the use of non-potable water to accomplish this. We have had some breaks in the underground pipes but these have been repaired and we are mostly hand-watering the crops. Our use of the land and water is "reasonable and consistent with the state and county land use plans and the public interest." Thank you. We also raise chickens, ducks and other live-stock. Our income-producing crops have grown considerably since the photos were taken.

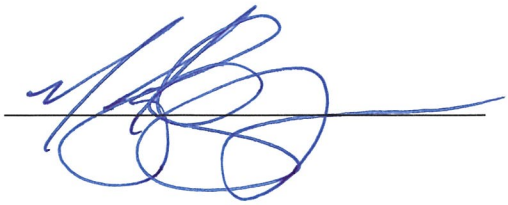
I DECLARE UNDER PENALTY OF LAW THAT THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

DATED: Wailuku, Hawaii, DECEMBER 14, 2015.



December 20, 2015

Aloha,

My Name is Rolando Agdeppa. I am the owner of Lot 54. I was born and raised in the Philippines where my family owned a rice farm. In the 70's moved to Lahaina, Maui where I worked for the Pioneer Mill till it closed in 1999. Since, I've worked in the hospitality industry, specializing in landscaping. I've always enjoyed working in the farm and greenhouses watching nature do her work. In 2004, I had an opportunity to own my farm with my son, Michael Agdeppa, at Wailuku Country Estates. I built a home in 2007 and have been living there since. During this time I have grown and harvested Avocado, Banana's, Bitter Melon, Egg Plants, Macadamia Nuts, Papaya, Peanuts, Pumpkin, String Beans, Squash, Tapioca, Taro, and Tomatoes. In addition to these crops, I also raise Egg Laying Chickens, and Goats.

My wife Rosie has just recently retired and I too am planning my retirement in a couple of years. My wife loves working in the farm and tending to her orchids and roses. I have just recently purchased a tractor and plow to help me with preparing the soil and to help me during harvest. In the future, I plan to continue with my farming. I would like to add corn, onion, ginger, and an herb garden to my list of crops to rotate.

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to me anytime.

Mahalo,

Rolando Agdeppa

My lot at Wailuku Country Estates is used, and has been used for years, exclusively by my family on Maui to grow bananas, okra, bitter melons, watermelons, peanut, eggplant, papaya, avocados and macadamia nuts (about 2 acres). We use drip irrigation for all our crops. My family uses the crops for their own consumption, but occasionally sell the excess at the farmer's market.

I plan to grow more including: mangoes, lychee and flowers to sell (about 1 acre). I need continued irrigation water for my crops.

Native Plant Landscape	0.25	Steep area on road frontage - all native plants Use - cuttings and lei material Drip Irrigation
Asparagus	0.02	Home consumption Drip Irrigation

Landscaping and turf around house	0.10	Lawn and foundation plantings Sprinkler lawn, foundation drip
Windbreaks and hedge plantings	0.10	Windbreaking, foliage and materials for cuttings

Area	Acres	Use - Unirrigated
Steep Cliff	0.23	Conservation
Access "roads"	0.10	Access to fields
Unplanted flat area	0.15	Future use - planting - drip irrigation currently mowed guinea grass

Notes on Irrigation:

Sod - planted 'El Toro' and 'Links' Zoysia with intent to sell but drop in market in 2008 - never panned out. Original 'Links' area reduced and planted to Taro. Sod is sprinkler irrigated but is only watered to keep alive when dry - not watered as a commercial sod anymore. Because the lot is quite sloped the sod has turned out to be good as an erosion barrier between the taro fields. Water from very steep driveway is now directed onto sod area with swales and berms. Also downspouts from roof directed to top sod area.

Lawn area is also sprinkler irrigated but as minimal as possible. And turned on only when turf shows signs of being dry.

All other watering is done via drip irrigation. All driplines are low flow - either rainbird landscape or t-tape in row crops. Irrigation times are determined by PET rates for Wailuku, gpm of driplines and rate of use of crop.

For example Taro is irrigated 1 hour 10 minutes 4 times per week in the summer. But for 1 hour in winter. In contrast - Native plants are irrigated only twice per week for 1 hour. Irrigation is turned off when rainfall exceeds 0.5". Generally stay in 80,000 GPM/month limit. In dry summer this can be difficult and means keeping some crops below their optimal watering times. Shift water to ti, taro, and awa. -our commercial crops.

New Uses
-Sprinkler area has been reduced from 0.5 to 0.25 A
- Total New use from 1.0 A to 1.9 A. 1.65 A is in Drip, 0.25 A sprinkler
-Taro (row crop Fields) increased from .25 to .4 A
-"Ornamental" plants - Ti, Gardenia, Stephanotis, nursery - increased from .25 to .38
-Landscape - Native plant area, Sod, lawn area, windbreaks - from 0.5 to 0.6 - the increase was due to additional plantings of the native plant area above the driveway. This was not installed during 2008. (with reduction in sod but increase in that area - total now is 0.6) with only 0.25 of this total now in sprinkler irrigation.
-Awa - these plantings are all new - 0.40 A
-Ti- some additions here - see map
-Home use - bananas, coconut, ulu, citrus, avocado - scattered in ti & awa fields -drip
Future - only .15 area left for potential expansion - final would be about 2 A under irrigation

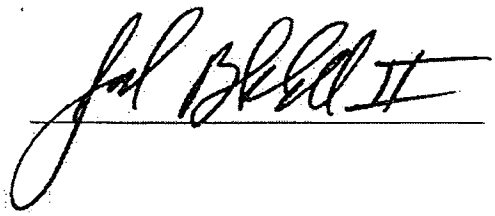
DATED: Wailuku, Hawaii, December 8, 2015.



ADDENDUM TO DECLARATION

I further declare as follows, which shall be incorporated by reference in the declaration to which this addendum is attached:

I purchased this lot in 2014 and since purchase have planted an orchard of 7 mango trees and about 30 avocado trees which are now about 1 1/2 years old about 1 acre. I put in both drip and sprinkler irrigation for the trees. No fruit yet. I also have native plants including A'ali'i, Ilima, Native Morning Glory and beach Glory, Pili Grass and Ohia Lehua on the hillside about 1/4 acre. I also have dry land taro about 50 plants which I give away luau leaf to charity and home consumption. About 40 banana trees for home consumption and friends. Plan to plant citrus, lychee and breadfruit on about 1/4 acre. I use the non potable water for theses plants and trees. Without irrigation water these trees and crops have a hard time to survive.

I DECLARE UNDER PENALTY OF LAW THAT THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

DATED: Wailuku, Hawaii, December 11, 2015.

Stacy A. Otmo

ADDENDUM TO DECLARATION

I further declare as follows, which shall be incorporated by reference in the declaration to which this addendum is attached:

Since purchasing my lot at Wailuku Country Estates (WCE) in 2003, I have been growing sod, various citrus trees (lemon, lime and tangerine), avocado, banana, lychee, mango, mountain apple, and various palm trees (foxtail, manila, areca, triangle, and royal) on about ¾ acre. All of the irrigation is on a drip system with a battery timer.

I plan on expanding the palm tree area. I currently live in Wailuku Heights where I germinate the palm seeds and grow the seedlings to a height between 2 and 3 feet. Presently, I have more than 200 trees which will be transported to my lot in WCE, potted, and prepared to be sold. I am working with several Landscape Architects and Landscape companies to sell the palm trees. I will continue to grow the citrus and other fruits for personal consumption.

In addition to the expansion of the palm tree area, I am planning to use about 2,000 to 3,000 square feet to grow vegetables (green beans, bitter melon, corn, tomatoes and eggplant) for personal consumption.

In view of the foregoing, I need a continuous source of irrigation water for my crops.
