

TAX FACTS 96-2

Transient Accommodations Tax

This Tax Facts provides information about the transient accommodations tax (TAT). The TAT is a tax imposed on gross income from the rental of a transient accommodation and on the fair market rental value of a time share vacation unit in the State of Hawaii.

The TAT rate is 9.25%. Besides the TAT, operators of transient accommodations must also pay the General Excise Tax (GET) at the rate of 4% (4.5% if the transient accommodation is on Oahu).

The following answers some of the most commonly asked questions about the TAT and transient accommodations. (See Tax Facts 98-4 for more information on the TAT on time share occupancy.)

1 What is a transient accommodation?

A transient accommodation is an apartment, house, condominium, beach house, hotel room, suite, or similar living accommodation rented to a transient person for less than 180 consecutive days in exchange for payment in cash, goods, or services.

2 Who is a transient?

A transient is any person, including a Hawaii resident, who has a permanent home elsewhere or does not intend to make the accommodation being rented a permanent place of residence.

3 What is the TAT?

Although often called a hotel room tax, Hawaii's TAT applies to all transient accommodations, not just hotel rooms. Also, whereas the hotel room tax is imposed on the guests or tenants, the TAT is levied on the operator of the transient accommodation.

4 What income is subject to the TAT?

The TAT is levied on gross rental income, which is any amount received in cash, goods, or services for renting a transient accommodation without any deductions for costs. Gross rental income does not include separate charges for guest amenities, such as meals, laundry services, or telephone calls, and it also does not include any GET or TAT that is visibly passed on to the guest or tenant. However, gross rental income does include fees, such as maintenance fees, cleaning fees, and management fees, that are not usually charged separately to guests or tenants.

5 Is a month-to-month lease subject to TAT?

The owner would be subject to TAT and may visibly pass the tax on to you if the accommodation is rented to you for less than 180 consecutive days and you have a permanent home elsewhere. However, if you do not have a permanent home elsewhere and you establish the accommodation as your permanent home, the rent is not subject to TAT.

6 Are Hawaii residents subject to the TAT?

A transient accommodation is a temporary place for you to stay, not your permanent home. Therefore, although you are a Hawaii resident, the owner of a transient accommodation is subject to TAT on the rental income from you and may visibly pass the TAT on to you.

7 If a tour package includes airfare, hotel room, and car rental, is TAT imposed on the entire amount?

No. Only the portion of the total package price allocated to the hotel room is subject to TAT.

8 Is TAT imposed on a Las Vegas hotel accommodation that I buy?

The TAT is imposed on rental activity in the State of Hawaii. Therefore, the Las Vegas hotel accommodation is not subject to TAT.

9 Are any transient accommodations exempt from TAT?

Transient accommodations specifically exempt from TAT include:

- Health care facilities;
- School dormitories;
- Lodging provided by nonprofit corporations or associations organized for religious, charitable, or educational purposes;
- Living accommodations for military personnel on permanent duty assignment to Hawaii, including military persons who receive a temporary lodging allowance while seeking

Tax Facts is a publication that provides general information on tax subjects of current interest to taxpayers and is not a substitute for legal or other professional advice. The information provided in this publication does not cover every situation and is not intended to replace the law or change its meaning. Furthermore, the information in this publication is subject to changes in the law or rules, judicial decisions, or changes in official Department positions.

For more information, visit the Department of Taxation's website at tax.hawaii.gov

accommodations in Hawaii or while awaiting reassignment outside Hawaii;

- Low-income renters receiving rental subsistence from the state or federal governments and whose rental periods are for durations shorter than 60 days;
- Operators furnishing accommodations to full-time students at post-secondary education institutions;
- Accommodations furnished without charge, such as, complimentary accommodations and accommodations furnished to contract personnel or to employees who receive room and board as part of their salary or compensation; and
- Accommodations furnished to foreign diplomats and consular officials who are holding cards issued or authorized by the United States Department of State granting them an exemption from state taxes.

10 I am in the military and am renting a house. Why did my landlord ask to see my permanent change of station orders?

Your landlord may be exempt from the TAT during the period you were temporarily renting the house. The landlord must provide documentation that you are in the military and are paying from a temporary lodging allowance to be entitled to exempt the income.

11 How do I claim the exemption from TAT for accommodations furnished to foreign diplomats and consular officials?

To claim the exemption, you must have documents to support the exemption. You may photocopy the card authorized by the U.S. Department of State (both sides if the exemption information is on the back of the card) and retain it with your records. Alternatively, you may record the customer's name, mission (country), card number, expiration date, and level of exemption. See Tax Facts 2016-1 for more information.

12 If I rented my time share unit to someone else, is the rental income subject to TAT?

Yes. You will be subject to TAT if you rent your time share unit for less than 180 consecutive days. You will not be subject to TAT if you exchange your stay at a time share unit for a stay at an out-of-state time share unit.

13 Do I pay both the GET and TAT on a beach house I rent out on weekends only?

Yes. You are required to be registered for, and to pay both the GET and the TAT.

14 How do I register for the TAT?

If you are not registered for the GET, complete Form BB-1, State of Hawaii Basic Business Application, to register for both the GET and the TAT. If you have a GET license, complete Form BB-1X, State of Hawaii Basic Business Amended Application, to add the TAT to your existing Hawaii Tax Identification Number.

The registration fee for the GET is $20. The registration fee for the TAT is $5 if you have 1 to 5 transient accommodation units and $15 if you have 6 or more units.

15 What other requirements must I meet to rent a transient accommodation?

You must display your TAT registration certificate in each room, apartment, or other transient accommodation unit being rented out. Instead of posting the certificate, you may post a notice informing the guest or tenant where the certificate may be inspected. Beginning January 1, 2016, you must also provide the name, phone number and email address of a local contact in the same place that the registration certificate or notice is posted. A local contact is an individual or business entity located on the same island as the transient accommodation or time share unit who is available to address questions or concerns of the transient renter.

Failure to meet these conditions is subject to a fine of $500 per day for a first violation, $1,000 per day for a second violation, and $5,000 per day for a third or subsequent violation.

16 Where can I get additional information?

For general information, please refer to the Department of Taxation's brochures entitled, "An Introduction to the Transient Accommodations Tax" and "An Introduction to the General Excise Tax." Information about both the GET and the TAT as they apply to rental activity may be found in the brochure entitled, "An Introduction to Renting Residential Real Property." Brochures and forms are available at any district tax office and on the Department's website at tax.hawaii.gov. You may also contact a customer service representative at (808) 587-4242 or toll-free at 1-800-222-3229 to have copies mailed to you.

Where to Get Forms and Information

Website: tax.hawaii.gov

Telephone: 808-587-4242

Toll-Free: 1-800-222-3229

Telephone for the hearing impaired: 808-587-1418

Toll-Free for the hearing impaired: 1-800-887-8974

Tax Facts is a publication that provides general information on tax subjects of current interest to taxpayers and is not a substitute for legal or other professional advice. The information provided in this publication does not cover every situation and is not intended to replace the law or change its meaning. Furthermore, the information in this publication is subject to change without notice due to changes in the law or rules, judicial decisions, or changes in official Department positions.

For more information, visit the Department of Taxation's website at tax.hawaii.gov