Re: Tax Studies Project Report, 7/3/2017

Project Summary

The PFM Group's study of the Hawaii tax system continues to progress according to schedule. Upon completion of stakeholder interviews with DoTax Deputy Director Damien Elefante (date TBD), the team will have finalized all Phase 2 (Information Gathering) activities.

During this reporting period, the project team primarily focused on preparing high level findings to share with Tax Review Commission at the next Commission meeting on Thursday, July 6, 2017.

Now nearing completion, the tax burden and regressivity models will be used to inform much of the work conducted related to the questions of 'who bears the burden of Hawaii's taxes' and 'ways to reform Hawaii's taxes to make them less regressive.'

Additionally, based on high-level findings, the project team is working to finalize its analysis of the financial impact of a list of proposed revenue initiatives and tax policy issues to analyze within the revenue model. The team will continue to collaborate with DoTax to ensure all forthcoming revenue changes are captured in the model's baseline projection.

Finally, the project team spoke during this reporting period with Joshua Lee, the DoTax employee managing the rollout of the Tax System Modernization Program. As with the other subject matter expert interviews, this meeting was useful in providing the necessary context that will help inform the project team's recommendations.

Key Activities through June 30, 2017

The project team conducted the following activities in accordance with Phase 3 of the project plan:

- Continued to explore key areas in which there are opportunities to benchmark Hawaii that could potentially impact the baseline and/or key drivers of the financial models;
