Introduction

The 2001 Employment and Payrolls in Hawai'i is the first annual report that provides tabulations of the number of reporting units, monthly employment, average annual employment, total wages, and average annual wage for the State of Hawai'i, as reported under Hawai'i Employment Security Law, based on the North American Industry Classification System 2002 (NAICS). Previous reports in this series on covered employment and wage data which date back to 1951 were tabulated based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) industry coding system.

Data users will find the new NAICS industry groupings better reflect the workings of the U.S. economy, particularly in the rapidly expanding services sector. NAICS, developed using a production-oriented conceptual framework, groups establishments into industries based on the activity in which they are primarily engaged. It is not an update of the SIC system. NAICS focuses on how products and services are created. Due to the differences between the NAICS and SIC structures, data for 2001 will not be comparable with the SIC-based data for earlier years. [See Technical Notes]

Sections of this report such as the summary tables for statewide and counties and the Size of Firm tables, are available for immediate downloading through our LOIHI website. Other employment data such as the monthly Local Area Unemployment Statistics and the Current Employment Statistics are also available. Visit our home page at URL:

2001 Statewide Average Annual Employment and Wage Summary

The statewide average annual wage for all workers covered by state and federal unemployment insurance programs grew by 2 percent to $31,241 in 2001. This is less than the 2.8 percent increase experienced in 2000. The average annual wage for private industry rose 2.1 percent to $29,802, as pay for government workers increased 1.5 percent to $37,024. Despite the events of September 11, statewide average annual employment managed to expand by 4,086 to 557,041 while the private sector climbed from 443,221 to 446,032.

While the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) sectors are not comparable with historical Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) divisions, some interesting, but not surprising comparisons can be made to the national average wage. In Hawaii, the highest average annual pay for 2001 was in utilities ($65,866), followed by mining ($57,952) and management of companies and enterprises ($55,309). Of all the NAICS sectors, these three sectors also have the smallest statewide average employment (2,668; 245; and 5,944 respectively). At the national level, the highest average annual pay sectors were management of companies and enterprises, followed by utilities and finance and insurance. The lowest annual wage in Hawaii for 2001 occurred in arts, entertainment, and recreation ($19,261) just behind accommodation and food services ($19,964). The lowest average annual pay in the nation belonged to the accommodation and food services sector. The accommodation and food services sector holds the highest statewide average employment (87,951) of all the NAICS sectors in Hawaii with almost 20 percent of the state's private industry workforce. The NAICS sector with the second highest average employment in Hawaii is retail trade (66,357) with nearly 15 percent of the private sector workers. Retail trade, which includes a relatively large share of part-time workers, holds the fourth lowest average pay ($21,968) of all the Hawaii NAICS sectors.

⁺ December 2001 employment levels reflect the impact of September 11 on Hawaii.

^{*} Data from larger classes were combined to prevent the disclosure of confidential information.

NOTE: An employer unit may include more than one worksite. For example, a retail company with five stores would be counted for each store under reporting units, but only once under employer units at the primary location. Thus, employer units tend to consolidate employment in Honolulu County.

DISTRIBUTION OF EMPLOYMENT BY SIZE OF EMPLOYER BY COUNTY

DISTRIBUTION OF EMPLOYMENT BY SIZE OF EMPLOYER BY INDUSTRY

Technical Notes

The data in this Employment and Payrolls series is compiled as a by-product of a federally required report on Covered Employment and Wages (CEW formerly known as ES-202). The CEW program summarizes employer contribution reports which are submitted quarterly by employers subject to Unemployment Insurance under Hawai'i Employment Security Law and Unemployment Compensation for Federal Employees (UCFE). Subject employers include Federal, State, and County governments in addition to private industry employers. Only civilian employment data covered by UCFE is reported in the CEW and federal government installations with less than 100 employees are not required to report.

Beginning with the release of data for 2001, the CEW program introduced the 2002 version of the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) as the basis for the assignment and tabulation of economic data by industry. NAICS is the product of a cooperative effort on the part of the statistical agencies of the United States, Canada, and Mexico. Previous reports in this series on covered employment and wage data which date back to 1951 were tabulated based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) industry coding system. Due to the differences between the NAICS and SIC structures, data for 2001 will not be comparable with the SIC-based data for earlier years.

The four counties in this series are Honolulu (O'ahu), Hawai'i, Maui (Moloka'i, Lana'i, Maui), and Kaua'i. Employers with unidentified physical locations have been combined in Honolulu County for reporting purposes. In particular, motion picture and television film production, which may change location from one project to another or within a single project, has been included in Honolulu County when a location is not identified. Prior to 1982, distribution of Federal wages by county was not available.

Employment reflects the number of employees who worked for employers subject to Unemployment Insurance, technically referred to as covered employment. It represents all full-time and part-time employees who worked during or received pay for the payroll period including the twelfth of each month. Persons on the payrolls of more than one establishment during the same reference week are counted for each establishment. Due to rounding in the computation of averages, individual data may not add up to the totals. Wages include all remuneration paid to covered civilian workers. Pay differences between industries may reflect hours of work and other factors such as seasonality. For example, average annual wages for retail trade is affected by the relatively large percentage of part-time workers. Average annual wages are computed by dividing total wages by the corresponding average annual employment.

Beginning in 1991, employment and wage data in this series was collected at the establishment level. Previously, employment and wage data was collected at the county level. Employment and wage data of employers with multiple worksites or engaged in more than one type of activity by industrial classification are distributed by supplementary statistical reports, primarily the Multiple Worksite Report, submitted by such multi-establishment employers. The data are further supplemented by other information from telephone contacts and correspondence.

"Reporting units" is a count of all reporting employer establishments. However, some multi-establishment employers are counted only once, and some, which have been distributed by worksite and industrial classification, are counted for each worksite and industry group. Some of the fluctuation in reporting units from year to year may be attributable to breakouts and consolidation of worksite and industry establishments. Multi-establishment employers are counted for each worksite, except for the construction industry, which reports separately only for major projects. "Employer Units" presented in the table of Employers and Employment by Size of Employer is the count of employers as registered with Unemployment Insurance. Employer units consolidate establishments for employers with multiple worksites and classify employers engaged in more than one type of business activity according to their primary activity and employers engaged in business in more than one county according to their primary county location.

Section 383-95 of the Hawai'i Employment Security Law provides that any information obtained from any employing unit cannot be disclosed in any manner revealing the firm's identity. All data disclosing individual employing units are represented by an asterisk.

2002 NORTH AMERICAN INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM
(NAICS)

NAICS represents one of the most profound changes for statistical programs focusing on emerging economic activities. NAICS, developed using a production-oriented conceptual framework, groups establishments into industries based on the activity in which they are primarily engaged. Establishments using similar raw material inputs, similar capital equipment and similar labor are classified in the same industry. NAICS focuses on how products and services are created. This approach creates more homogeneous categories that are better suited for economic analysis and yields significantly different industry groupings than those produced by the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) approach. The NAICS development process was not an update of the SIC system; rather, from a fresh starting point, its developers could establish new categories reflecting the structure of the modern economy. Data users will be able to work with new NAICS industrial groupings which better reflect the workings of the U.S. economy, and will be able to track specific industries and analyze the effects of changes in industrial production process.ⁱ

NAICS uses a hierarchical structure. It uses a six-digit classification code that allows greater flexibility in the coding structure. The first two digits of the six digit code designate the highest level of aggregation, with 20 such two-industry sectors. Three NAICS sectors include more than one 2-digit identifiers. Manufacturing includes codes 31-33, Retail trade comprises 44-45, and Transportation and warehousing encompasses 48-49. The third digit represents the subsector. The fourth digit of the NAICS code represents the industry group level. The fifth digit in the NAICS code represents the international-industry level. In most cases, there will be comparability between classifications of the United States, Canada, and Mexico at the five-digit level. The sixth digit designates national detail. This allows the flexibility to create more in depth statistics for the industries that hold particular importance in each country. Most six digit industries end in a zero, thus signifying that there is no additional detail below the five digits. However, some six-digit industries end in a number other than zero, meaning that the fifth digit was split into two or more U.S. industries.ⁱⁱ (Due to confidentiality issues in the Hawaii data tabulations, this six digit level detail is only visible in the Accommodation and Food Services Sector.)

In addition to the new groups, or sectors, created by the NAICS Manual, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) and its partner agencies have further assembled NAICS sectors, extending the sector structure upwards. These extensions aggregate the individual NAICS sectors into supersectors, and above this supersector level are two more aggregations, the commonly used domain known as goods-producing and service-providing. Domains and supersectors will be used when sufficient data do not exist to publish at the sector level.ⁱⁱⁱ

NAICS recognizes hundreds of new businesses in the economy, largely in the fast-growing services sector. There is increased detail in services, with new sectors such as Information; Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services; and Administrative and Support, Waste Management and Remediation Services. There is a new Accommodation and Food Service Sector that, as its name implies, combines accommodation (hotels) with food service as opposed to the SIC system where food service was included with retail trade.

Another new sector of interest is Management of Companies and Enterprises. This sector is comprised of establishments engaged in managing the activities of other corporate units. Since NAICS classifies establishments based on what they actually do, business, organizations and institutions are given the industry code of their main activity without regard to the parent company.^{iv} Auxiliary establishments which provide services such as warehousing, personnel, or data processing to other organizations within the same company are classified according to the services they provide.

NAICS will require revisions to reflect the dynamic changes occurring in the economy. Future revisions may focus on reaching comparability in areas of the classification system that are not agreed upon at the five-digit level. Regardless small modifications and interpretations will be studied and implemented on a continuous basis.

Users interested in more information about NAICS can access the Bureau of the Census Web site at <http://www.census.gov/epcd/www/naics.html>. In late 2002, BLS will provide ratio tables that can be used to convert historic SIC series to a NAICS basis at <http://www.bls.gov/cew/home.htm>. The NAICS 2002 manual is available from the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) Web page at <http://www.ntis.gov/>.

Comparability with other issues. Issues of the Annual Employment and Payrolls date back to 1951. Incongruity is apparent: due to changes in the unemployment insurance laws, changes in the industry coding manuals, changes in federal interpretations of the manuals, noneconomic changes in area and industry classification as adjusted by the Annual Refiling Survey, and changes in the report format. With the introduction of NAICS in 2001, and due to the differences between the NAICS and SIC structures, data for 2001 will not be comparable with the SIC-based data for earlier years. Adjustments need to be made or shortcomings need to be stipulated when using this series in trend analysis.

Comparability with other data. The Employment and Payrolls Report defines employment as the number of workers, covered by Hawaii Employment Security Law, who worked during or received pay for the payroll period which includes the twelfth of the month, reported by place of work (job count). The Employment and Payrolls Report does not include the self-employed. Other reports published by the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations that present employment data may show slightly different figures. For example, the Labor Force Data Book defines labor force employment as the actual number of persons working. Therefore, a person may be counted more than once in the Employment and Payrolls Report, but only once in labor force employment. Also, the Labor Force Data Book defines jobcount as the number of paid employees by establishment. This includes all employees regardless of Unemployment Insurance coverage and differs from the Employment and Payrolls Report, which excludes non-covered workers such as certain student hires.
