

HAWAI' I COMMUNITY STEWARDSHIP DIRECTORY

HAWAI' I OFFICE OF PLANNING
COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT PROGRAM
2018

A Message from the Coastal Zone Management Program

It is with great pleasure that we are releasing the 4th version of the Community Stewardship Directory. Over the years, we have continued to update the list of organizations in this resource to help facilitate connections and provide our communities with information to learn more about place-based stewardship activities in their areas. This year, with the support of participating organizations, the cover has been updated to feature just a few of the many stewardship activities that are occurring across the State. I hope you enjoy the new look!

The publication of this directory would not be possible without the dedicated community stewardship groups and supportive volunteers across our islands who work tirelessly to conserve, preserve, and manage Hawaii's precious natural and cultural resources. We'd like this Directory to foster a sense of community, support participating organizations' activities, and connect likeminded entities that may be seeking to expand their activities. Have you used this Directory to make a connection? We value hearing from you about how you have used this resource, and your thoughts on how we can continue to improve.

Justine Nihipali

Coastal Zone Management Program Manager

He'eia State Park, O'ahu, 2017

Overview

The Community Stewardship Directory (Directory) is an ongoing effort of the Hawai'i Coastal Zone Management (CZM) Program to help community groups and organizations connect with each other to share their experiences and lessons learned in natural and cultural resources management. The Directory is one element to implement the Hawai'i Ocean Resources Management Plan (ORMP). The ORMP, revised in 2013 and available through the CZM Program website (<http://planning.hawaii.gov/czm>) promotes place-, culture-, and community-based approaches to natural and cultural resource management and charts a new course of action that advocates for the community and all levels of government to work together collaboratively. The Directory will be updated periodically.

Contributors to this directory completed an organizational profile that included names and locations of projects that typify their organization's activities. Organizations were asked to select project locations based on the State's judicial district boundaries, rather than specific ahupua'a or traditional moku, as there are currently disagreements for some names and boundaries across the State. As these issues become resolved, we hope to incorporate these boundaries into updated versions.

We hope this Community Stewardship Directory is a useful resource as organizations conduct projects and programs across the State. Currently, 104 organizations have requested inclusion in this directory. Organizations are listed in alphabetical order, and include contact information, mission statements, areas where they conduct stewardship activities, and notable projects. As this directory shows, community organizations are active across all of the main islands, dedicating their time, knowledge and inspiration to enhancing Hawai'i's precious resources.

The following list provides a translation of Hawaiian words found in the directory.

University of Hawai'i Department of Geography

Year Established: 1931

Mission Statement

To strive to link three overlapping domains - the environmental, the human and the technological, to understand humans as inhabitants and transformers of the earth. It has roots in both the physical and the social sciences. An overriding spatial perspective is reflected in such integrative concepts as place, region, landscapes and seascapes, human and physical systems. The search for such understanding involves a thorough study of (a) interlocking systems of the natural environment (climate, landforms, oceans, biota); (b) the social use (and abuse) of natural resources; (c) the diverse historical, cultural, social, economic, and political structures and processes which affect the spatial organization of population groups and their activities; and (d) areas of the Earth's surface at various scales - cities, regions, nations, states or landscapes - where integrated interpretation of cultural, economic and political processes can be attempted.
