Thanks very much for this update and the work that everyone is doing to update GNIS with these corrections.

Aloha Melia,

Since the HBGN already made its decisions on these names, it shouldn't have to review them again. I'll do some checking to include any comments that I can find to back up the decisions and will assemble a spreadsheet for Jenny, so that she can process them as soon as possible. I hope to get that done this week prior to the September meeting. I'm cc'ing Jenny to give her a heads up.

I plan to completely review the spreadsheets for all of the islands in the coming weeks (and probably months) to identify and resolve any discrepancies between the GNIS and already-decided HBGN corrections. This is similar to what I did with a list that Bobby Camara recently sent. In that case, however, there were actually a few place names for which the HBGN had made spelling corrections that I'll have to bring back before the Board to re-review.

If any of these names for Tom require re-review, I'll include them in the lists for the upcoming September 13th meeting...ab

Aloha Arthur and Holly:

Seeking your input regarding this batch of names which appear on the HBGN list as HBGN corrected but have not been uploaded to the GNIS in WASO.

Kalei contacted Jennifer R. and she suggested that the HBGN review and forward this list so that she can upload to the GNIS and the park can utilize the names for the current map being produced by the Harper's Ferry Center for the Ala Kahakai National Historic Trail.

Tom Patterson, the physiographic specialist and cartographer at HFC is done with the design work and awaiting text/titles and names to finalize the map for production, so if we can get these names moved to Runyon for upload it would be much appreciated. Map production is now awaiting these names, which have already been reviewed by the HBGN.

Does this request get added to the September 13th HBGN meeting for consideration?

Please advise, mahalo in advance,

melia

Aloha Melia,

Thanks very much for your call today. Attached is the list of names ALKA would like to use which are found in the updated HBGN list, but not in the GNIS list. Could you please put these forward for approval and eventual updating of the
