P. Additional information or comments regarding questions shown above (attach sheet(s) if additional room is needed):
The Site is a part of the JBPHH, which consists, in part, of the former Pearl Harbor Naval Complex (PHNC). The PHNC is on the National Priorities List under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, as amended (CERCLA). A Federal Facilities Agreement (FFA) was entered into by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 9, the State of Hawaii Department of Health (DOH), and the Navy on 17 March 1994. The general purpose of the FFA is to ensure that the environmental impacts associated with past and present Navy activities within the former PHNC are investigated and appropriate remedial action is taken by the Navy with respect to contamination resulting from those Navy activities in order to protect human health and the environment.

Utility Pole
There is one utility pole located on the Site. See Attachment (2), Photos #5 and #6. It is possible that the utility pole contains creosote. Creosote is a wood preservative. PAHs, phenol, and cresols are commonly found in creosote. During the VSI, the utility pole was in good condition and should not pose a concern for the use of the proposed license area.

Monitoring Well located on the Site:
There is a monitoring well located on the Site. This well is currently being used in IR investigations. See Attachment (2), Photo #4. See Attachment (3) for restrictions and land use controls relating to this monitoring well.
